[...] And his outward seeming did not belie his feelings. He had spent a pleasant day. At South Wellmouth, his first port of call, he had strengthened his political fences by dropping in upon and chatting with several acquaintances who prided themselves upon being in the know concerning local political opinion and drift. Mr. Raish Pulcifer-no one in Ostable county ever referred to him as Horatio-had already held the positions of town clerk, selectman, constable and postmaster. Now, owing to an unfortunate shift in the party vote, the public was, temporarily, deprived of his services. However, it was rumored that he might be persuaded to accept the nomination for state representative if it were offered to him. His acquaintances at South Wellmouth had that day assured him there was a good, fair fightin chance that it might be. Then, after leaving South Wellmouth, he had dined at the Rogers House in Wellmouth Centre, matching a friend for the dinners and sticking the said friend for them and for the cigars afterward. Following this he...
